the offeror shall be treated, for the purposes of this section, as having acquired or contracted to acquire those shares by virtue of acceptances of the take-over offer but in relation to any other case those shares shall be treated as excluded from those to which the take-over offer relates.

(7) Subject to section 224, where a notice has been given by the offeror under subsection (1), the offeror shall, after the expiration of one month after the date on which the notice has been given, or where subsection (2) applies after fourteen days from the date the statement has been posted to the dissenting shareholder—

the holder of any shares or any class of shares to which the take-over offer relates may, by notice to the offeror, require him to acquire those shares, and the offeror shall be bound to acquire those shares on the terms of the take-over offer or such other terms as may be agreed.

(2) Within one month of the time specified in subsection (1), the offeror shall give any shareholder who has not accepted the take-over offer, notice in the manner prescribed under the Code of the rights that are exercisable by him under subsection (1) and, if the notice is given before the period mentioned in subsection (1), it shall state that the take-over offer is still open for acceptance.

(3) A notice under subsection (2) may specify the period for the exercise of the rights conferred by this section and in that event the rights shall not be exercisable after the end of that period; but no such period shall end less than three months after the end of the period within which the take-over offer can be accepted.

(2) If an application to court is pending at the end of the period mentioned in subsection 222(2), that subsection shall not have effect until the application has been disposed of.

(3) When the holder of any shares exercises his rights under subsection 223(1), the court may, on an application made by such holder of shares or the offeror, order that the terms on which the offeror shall acquire the shares shall be as the court thinks fit.

- (a) the application was unnecessary, improper or vexatious; or
- (b) there has been unreasonable delay in making the application or unreasonable conduct on the part of the shareholder in conducting the proceeding on the application.

(5) Subject to subsection (6), the court may, on an application made by an offeror who has not obtained acceptances to the extent necessary for entitling him to give notice under subsection 222(1), make an order authorising the offeror to give notices under subsection 222(1).

(6) The court may only grant an order under subsection (5) upon being satisfied that—

- (a) the failure of the offeror to obtain such acceptances was due to the inability of the offeror to trace one or more of the persons holding shares to which the take-over offer relates after having made reasonable enquiries;
- (b) the shares which the offeror has acquired or contracted to acquire by virtue of acceptances of the take-over offer, together with the shares held by the person mentioned in paragraph (a), amount to not less than the minimum specified in subsection 222(1); and

Provided that the court shall not make such an order unless it considers that it is just and equitable to do so having regard, in particular, to the number of shareholders who have been traced but who have not accepted the take-over offer.
